Austria Given Unanimous Approval As Newest Member Of Body

POLICY OF FRANCE

Viviani Asserts Germans Must Be Reformed To Join Body

(Reuter's Service)

Geneva, Dec. 15.—The League of Nations Assembly has unanimously voted the admission of Austria to the League, Austria alone abstained from voting on the resolution.

The Assembly elected the following to be the non-permanent members of the League Council for the ensuing year: Spain, who received 35 votes; Brazil, 33 votes; Belgium, 24 votes, and China, 21 votes.

Geneva, December 15.—The League of Nations Assembly proceeded this afternoon with the election of the four non-permanent members of the Council. It is practically certain that Brazil, Belgium and Spain will retain their seats on the Council. On the other hand, there are several candidates for that at present held by Greece, notably Czechoslovakia, Rumania and China.

Geneva, Dec. 15.—The Council of the League has approved a Protocol, in accordance with a vote of the Assembly, establishing a Permanent International Court of Justice. The Protocol includes a clause whereby signatories may declare the jurisdiction of the Court immediately compulsory on certain legal questions.

PREPARE FOR CREDITS

The Council has also adopted a report which recommended the establishment of an International Credit Commission, for the purpose of instituting a scheme of international credits, and thus allowing impoverished nations to procure necessary resources.

The Assembly has adopted a resolution inviting the Governments of member States immediately to enforce the "White Slave" Conventions of 1905 and 1910, and to send representatives to an international conference which will meet shortly for the purpose of arranging joint action.

Geneva, Dec. 15 (Via Bordeaux and Koukara).—An important pronouncement of French policy towards the League of Nations was delivered by M. Viviani in the course of today's debate in the Assembly, on the admission of new states to the League.

M. Viviani, according to an official French report of his speech, began by remarking that he wished the League were universal, but he denounced as exaggerated the view that the absence of certain states from the League could involve its dissolution.

PRaises AMERICA

As regards the United States, M. Viviani expressed regret that after their act of courageous manhood in entering the war, they had failed to join the League. If the United States asked for a liberal interpretation of the Covenant and closer intellectual and moral union between nations, then the League would not refuse their request, M. Viviani declared.

Turning to Russia, M. Viviani recalled that on his motion, the Commission on new admissions to the League had requested the admission of the Baltic and Caucasian states, one part of old Russia. Out of respect for Russia, it had been proposed not to touch these individual cases of the great Russian problem. But, M. Viviani continued, the admission of Soviet Russia was impossible. The Bolsheviks spoke ironically of the "League of Bourgeois Nations" and had refused to allow the League to undertake an inquiry in Russia.

The League, declared M. Viviani, represented true Democracy. The delegates there represented democratic governments elected by universal suffrage. The League of Nations abhorred all tyrannies, and Bolshevism was abject tyranny. The League would admit Russia when she became democratic.

FRANCE DEMANDS JUSTICE

As regards Germany, M. Viviani declared that she must put herself into a fit state to be received into the League according to Article 1 of the Covenant. When

Hazelton Is Still Alive; First Court Case Following Affray In Trenches Is Held

Condition Of Victim Of Shooting At El Dorado Cafe Unchanged Early Today—Commissioner Urges Closing Of Resort

Up to an early hour this morning no change was observed in the condition of Mr. R. F. Hazelton, victim of Monday night's shooting affray in the El Dorado Cafe in the Trenches, who is at the Shanghai General Hospital. According to reports from the hospital he still has a chance to recover.

The first of the court hearings in connection with the shooting was held yesterday morning when the charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct made against Francis Quinn, companion of the man being held for the shooting, was heard by U.S. Commissioner F. J. Schuhl. This hearing was marked by a significant statement made by the Commissioner when he was passing sentence after the man had been convicted.

SHOULD BE CLOSED

"I do not know," said Commissioner Schuhl, "how much my recommendation will be good for, Mr. Holcomb, but I want to say that this is one of the places that ought to be closed and I am going to ask that this matter be taken up with the proper authorities."

"I think the El Dorado is outside of the Settlement, but this matter should be taken up with the proper authorities and I would recommend that the license issued to this place be immediately revoked if possible. If not, that no new license be issued to them when their old license expires."

"These places are no good whatever, they are simply a nuisance to the entire community whether they are conducted in the Settlement or out of the Settlement. This kind of place is better closed."

Henry B. Furbush, the seaman engineer, who is facing a charge of shooting with intent to kill, was in the court room at his companion's hearing, but was not called upon to testify. The date for his hearing was fixed, however, for December 28 by the Commissioner.

BUILDERS IN TRUST CAUSE HALT IN WORK AT NEW YORK

Contracts For Public Work Rescinded After Probe

BAR COMPETITION

Labor "King" Described As Riding Employers With High Hand

(Reuter's Service)

New York, November 21, (by mail).—Starting with a slight rumble in 1919, investigation of New York's "building trust" has gained such momentum in the last few weeks that its roar has been heard from coast to coast.

Here are a few of the results to date:

1.—The City of New York already has rescinded several contracts for public work, reaching into the millions, and now has considered the advisability of cancelling all contracts for public buildings lest the "trust" have a hand in the bidding.

2.—One indictment—a charge of perjury—has been returned by the grand jury and threats of more criminal prosecutions are in the air.

3.—Testimony already entered in the record of the Joint Legislative Committee investigating the "trust" has given hints that combinations in restraint of trade, alleged by the committee's counsel, may be nation-wide in scope.

4.—Sensational disclosures have attracted the attention of the Department of Justice, which assigned special officials to watch developments, and the Senate Committee on Production and Reconstruction, which, with subpoena power, has itself studied the housing situation throughout the country.

PREDICTS WIDER SCOPE

Mr. Samuel Untermyer, who is conducting the investigation for the Joint Legislative Committee, after claiming a year ago that he had "established a clear case of criminal conspiracy" in the building trades, is confident that the inquiry soon will assume wider scope. He has openly asserted that "the most important of these criminal combinations and secret agreements in the building trades are nation-wide in their scope and cannot effectively be reached by local prosecutions."

The evidence given before this Court of Inquiry has revealed an elaborate system by which competitive bidding for building contracts was throttled, and also disclosed payments involving thousands of dollars to Robert P. Brindell, president of the Building Trades Council and his walking delegates.

Brindell, who testified that he had been employed as a drug clerk at Providence, R.I., eight years ago, is one of the highest paid labor leaders in the United States, and had been described by witnesses as a "king" riding contractors with a high hand.

"KING" DENIES CHARGES

He has publicly denied the charges, but has declined to return to the witness stand after one appearance, at which time he objected to being questioned as to his "personal life."

According to witnesses, Brindell had absolute control over the 115,000 union men in the Building Trades Council, and could "strike" a job at any time if the contractor did not meet his demands. One witness declared that the labor leader figured $1,000 a floor for himself on a construction job. On several occasions, it was testified that Brindell had declined to take $500 or small amounts offered him.

One housewrecking contractor declared that his "million dollar business" had been ruined when he refused to pay tribute.

Czech Republic Is Disrupted For Time By Force Of Reds

(Special Cable)

New York, Dec. 15.—The Berlin correspondent of the Associated Press states that Czechoslovakia has undergone a comic opera revolution. The Communists when driven from their headquarters at Prague called a general strike of miners, textile, sugar and iron workers.

It is reported that factories and estates were seized, socialized, and the owners dispossessed, but the forces quickly suppressed the disorder with only one casualty. They arrested 200 leaders and the strike was called off.

Persians Are Urged To Protect Territory When British Forces Withdraw

Army To Be Called Out As Soon As Spring Season Opens Declaration Of Secretary For War

(Reuter's Service)

London, December 15.—In moving the adoption of the Army Supplementary Estimate (details of which have already been telegraphed), in the House of Commons today, Mr. Winston Churchill, Secretary for War, announced that General Ironside's force at Kasvin, which is practically the sole protection of North-West Persia and Teheran, will be withdrawn next spring.

Meanwhile, he said, we were trying to rouse the Persian Government to a sense of its responsibility as regards self-protection. It was melancholy to contemplate the possibility of that ancient capital and monarchy being engulfed in barbarism, but there must be a limit to Great Britain's responsibilities.

REVIEWS HISTORY

Proceeding, Mr. Churchill reviewed the history of the present position in Mesopotamia, and drew attention to the fact that the Government's efforts to reduce its commitments had been hampered by the rebellion.

He eulogized General Haldane's wisdom and capacity, and his success in breaking up the rebellion. We were only now emerging from a campaign in which we had been fighting for our lives, and we had now begun to resume the reduction of the garrison. Mr. Churchill declared that it was useless to get excited on this matter.

The House could dismiss the Government by refusing to vote the additional $9,000,000 for Mesopotamia, but his dismissal would not alter the difficulties.

Sinn Fein Leader Is Denied Special Request To Address De Valera

(Reuter's Service)

London, Dec. 15.—Father O'Flanagan, Acting President of Sinn Fein, having asked for facilities to communicate with Mr. De Valera, who is at present in America, and with Mr. Arthur Griffith, now in prison in Dublin, the Prime Minister has replied that facilities will be afforded him for seeing Mr. Arthur Griffith, while as regards Mr. De Valera, "the ordinary methods of communication with America are fully open" to Father O'Flanagan.

The Premier added: "I sincerely trust that the activities of all men of peace and good-will will prevail, that the policy of those who adhere to violence will finally be abandoned, and that the people of Ireland will be free to return to constitutional methods, whereby alone their reasonable aspirations can be attained."

Obata Is Criticised By Foreign Office Because Of Little Hsu's Escape

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Dec. 15.—The latest reply from the Waichiao to Mr. Obata regarding the escape of Hsu Shu-tseng is a lengthy and forceful document. While hammering in the arguments already reported in previous notes, it says:

"If Hsu Shu-tseng and the others who committed military and criminal offences, according to the law of my country, were able to get beyond the reach of the law on the pretext of finding asylum in your Legation, then lawless characters will certainly regard the Legations in Peking as a haven of refuge, and this will constitute a great danger to the internal administration of China, and the maintenance of peace and order in Peking, which I am sure your Excellency, who has always respected law and justice, does not wish."

Again, a Minister in an accredited country should not in the performance of his duties cause any difficulties to the internal administration of that country. This is an international usage which is beyond doubt, and I am sure, within your Excellency's perception."

The note later goes on to say: "Furthermore, Hsu Shu-tseng, being regarded as the most important and leading criminal, has been able to escape by taking Vanderlip Merely Chasing Rainbows Opinion In U.S.

(Special Cable)

New York, Dec. 15.—Washington Vanderlip, the New York financier, has gone to consult the Californians who furnished him a $25,000 "grubstake." The local financiers ignored him and his concessions are not taken seriously. He is regarded as "a deluded rainbow chaser."

AMERICANS ARE SLAIN BY MANILA NATIVE POLICE

Forty Members Of Constabulary Run Amuck When Comrade Is Shot To Death

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Manila, Dec. 15.—Forty Filipino members of the Manila Constabulary broke barracks here tonight, and, running amuck, attacked the police, killing four Americans (a captain, two patrolmen and an Army Intelligence Officer) and four Filipinos (two patrolmen and two civilians); three Filipinos were wounded.

The trouble was due to the shooting of a Filipino constabularyman by an American policeman, in self-defence, yesterday.

The rioters all surrendered finally, with the exception of five who escaped.

Japan War Office Denies Knowledge Of Hingking Deaths

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, Dec. 15.—Lieut.-Col. Hata, of the War Office, interviewed by Kokusai, stated that the War Office has no information respecting the report from Shanghai, to the effect that Japanese troops killed Koreans and burned a school at Hingking, in Manchuria province, though the troops operated in that region during October and November.

However, if, after investigation, the report proves to be true, the War Office will not hesitate to publish full details, and it will instruct the commander to investigate the matter immediately.

Conferees Agree As Disposal Of Cables

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, Dec. 14.—While the International Communications Conference has achieved nothing in regard to the future disposition of the German cables, a modus vivendi has been reached, whereby the present handling of the cables will continue until March 15 next.

Meanwhile the deliberations will be continued by the Ambassadors of the participating countries, while the delegates return home and report to their respective Governments.

Great Britain, Italy and Japan have agreed to this arrangement—the last named only after much persuasion—but France has hitherto refused assent. If no agreement is reached by March 15, "the Powers reserve to themselves all rights of action." This probably question will be threshed out in plenary conference.

New York, Dec. 15.—The State Department announces that the modus vivendi previously announced in regard to the disposal of the ex-German cables has now been made unanimous, and it therefore appears that France also has signed the agreement.

New "Omaha" Carries Heavy Battery And Has High Speed

(Special Cable)

Washington, Dec. 16.—Joseph Daniels, secretary of the United States Navy, in his annual report states that the present size of the American navy is sufficient if the nation enters the League of Nations. Otherwise, he recommends, within the next three years the country should build 31 battle cruisers, 30 cruisers, 8 gunboats, 18 torpedo-boat destroyers and 15 submarines.

NAVALS PROGRAM

(Reuter's Service)

London, December 15.—During question-time in the House of Commons today, Sir John Craig stated that Great Britain was at present constructing six destroyers, the United States 43 (7), Japan eight, France one and Italy nine.

Washington, Dec. 14.—The scout cruiser Omaha, the first of her type to be completed for the United States Navy, was launched at Tacoma today. She is of 7,500 tons, will develop a speed of nearly thirty-four knots, and will carry twelve six-inch guns and two torpedo-tubes.

GIGANTIC GUN TESTED

(Special Cable)

Watertown, Dec. 15.—A new 14-inch disappearing rifle for coast defense is the largest constructed in the United States. Its first test was a complete success.

The maximum time required to fire one round is one minute and it will hurl a shell at the estimated distance of 23 miles; it is 96 feet in length.

Washington, Dec. 15.—Admiral Counts told the House of Representatives Naval committee that if all construction was stopped now the comparative capital ship tonnage would stand: Great Britain 484,000 tons; United States 488,000, and Japan 326,000.

France Ready To Aid Recovery Of German Industries

(French Wireless Service)

Paris, Dec. 15.—"The Brussels Reparations Conference opens, for France, under happy circumstances," states the Petit Parisien; "the French point of view will be represented by minds at once prudent and untrammelled by red tape and the French Government has had the wisdom to repose full confidence in them."

"As regards France," it continues, "it is probable that many critics who do not know her well will hereafter be astonished at the breadth, and at the same time, the firmness of her views. They will perceive, for example, that France, contrary to one of the most slanderous of legends, far from fearing the recovery of German industry, desires nothing more than its recovery, for the sake of her devastated regions."

Vladivostok In Need Of Silver To Pay Railway Men

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Vladivostok, Dec. 15.—Relations between Chita and Vladivostok are still in the melting-pot. The peasant delegates continue to advocate the closing of the Assembly for at least a month, while the remaining members, including the new Ministry and some Bolsheviks, are opposed to this course.

The changed Bolshevik attitude is due to a financial crisis in Priamur. Chita has prohibited the further issue of silver coinage, but the Vladivostok Government, threatened with a strike of the Usuri railwaymen, unless their November wages are forthcoming, is compelled to disobey and is trying hurriedly to pass a law sanctioning the issue of five million roubles in silver.

INDO-CHINA HAS GREAT PROSPECTS SAYS M. LONG

(Reuter's Service)

Marseilles, Dec. 15.—The Governor-General of Indo-China, M. Maurice Long, who arrived at Marseilles on Monday, was welcomed during the afternoon at the Colonial Institute. Here a greeting was held in his honor, those present including the leading commercial and industrial men of the city. The President of the Institute, M. Bohn, was in the chair.

M. Long dealt at length with the present political and economic situation of Indo-China and explained the various measures which he had taken for the solution of the manifold problems involved in the return to normal activity following the war years.

He pointed out that the condition of prosperity and calm in which Indo-China at present found herself inspired every hope for her future, and turned the attention of his hearers more particularly to the prospect of a great impetus to the industry, commerce and development of Indo-China.

On Tuesday morning the Governor-General, in company with the Deputy Commissioner-General of the Marseilles Colonial Exhibition, the Prefect of the Bouches-du-Rhone and the Mayor of Marseilles, visited the Exhibition Grounds and the section which has been reserved there for the Indo-Chinese building. Visiting Commission's Work Aided By Shanghai Ladies

Following meetings held yesterday by members of the visiting Eastern Commission of the British National Council for Combating Venereal Diseases events of the program of conferences and addresses that has been arranged will be continued today.

Members of the Commission addressed two meetings yesterday afternoon. One of these was at the Cathedral Church House at 4:15 o'clock in the afternoon when an address was given by Mrs. C. Neville Rolfe, before a gathering of headmasters, head mistresses and educators of the Shanghai Municipal schools and heads of foreign and Chinese mission and private schools. The other meeting was a medical conference held at the Shanghai General Hospital at 4:35 o'clock in the afternoon. This was for members of the medical fraternity and was addressed by Dr. Rupert Hallam of the Commission.

On the occasion Wednesday morning when Mrs. Rolfe spoke before a meeting of the American Woman's Club and plans to give support to the movement were discussed it was voted to seek the co-operation of British ladies of the community and it was arranged to hold two morning meetings, one this morning at Marty's Memorial Hall, 121 Szechuen Road at 10:30 o'clock, and a second meeting on Monday morning at the same place and time. The co-operation of British ladies of Shanghai is being brought about by Lady Fraser and Mrs. Skinner Turner.

At the meeting to be held this morning the film "The End of the Road" will be shown. At the meeting Monday morning an address will be given by Mrs. Rolfe.

On Tuesday at 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon the visiting commission will present the film version of Brieux' "Damaged Goods."

VOLUNTEER FLEET SHIP COMES IN WITHOUT FLURRY

Another vessel under the operation of the new directorate of the Russian Volunteer Fleet entered port yesterday with scarcely a trace of recurrence of the dispute between the old and new agencies which has marked the arrival of the last two previous ships.

The ship arriving yesterday was the Erivan, coming from Vladivostok and Chetov with passengers and cargo for this port.

Representatives of both the old and new agencies went aboard the Erivan when she dropped anchor in the Whangpoo. Captain Glasser declined to deliver the ship's papers to the old agent, citing his instructions to deal only with the new representative here. Later he submitted documents to the Commissioner of Foreign Affairs, as has been the practice with ships of the new regime since the controversy arose.

Customs officials also visited the ship in the ordinary way, which seems an indication that the vessels of the Vladivostok directorate are to be given the usual harbor facilities and that the Russian Consulate, to which the old agency appealed previously, is not functioning in connection with Russian shipping any longer.

It is expected that a definite announcement of the Chinese policy with regard to the R.V.F. will be made shortly.

REST FOR MOTHERS

How many babies wake up just about the mother's bed-time and keep her busy for a good part of the night. Under such circumstances Baby's Own Tablets are just the friend needed. They contain no opiates, but send baby to sleep simply because they remove the cause of his sleeplessness and make him feel well and comfortable. SILK DELEGATES GUESTS AT DINNER

Chinese Chamber Fetes Representatives Going To International Exposition

Chinese delegates to the International Silk Exposition, to be in session in New York on February 7, heads of the Chinese Silk and Cocoon Guild and members of the foreign and Chinese communities were guests of the Chinese Chamber of Commerce last night at the Great Eastern Hotel.

Mr. Ching Chen-ching, vice-chairman of the Chinese Chamber of Commerce, acted as toastmaster. Speeches were made by Mr. Ting Shu-ling, head of the delegation to America, Mr. Ching, Mr. Shen Lien-fang, chairman of the Shanghai Silk and Cocoon Guild, Mr. Jabin Han of the Chinese Chamber of Commerce and Mr. Hsia Ching-tung of the Eastern Times.

Mr. Ching pointed out the importance of the silk trade and showed the silk depression of this year has caused the financial stringency of the port. The export of silk this year, he said, is only one third of that of last year and because of the big capital required for the silk industry, a great deal of the cash money has been absorbed. He hoped that the trip to be made by the delegation would be beneficial not only to the silk trade in China but also to all other trades.

Mr. Ting took up the point of commercial interdependence brought out by Mr. Ching and assured his audience that the delegation will try to bring back as many improvements as their efforts may. He especially expressed his gratitude to the local press which had furnished him and his associates much food for thought and material which would be most valuable to him and his associates in their travels. He expressed the hope that many similar deputations would follow him and improve the industrial conditions in China.

order that she may also become a commercial power of the world. He likened the press to a guiding light without which people were apt to be misled to danger and catastrophe.

Mr. Shen Lien-fang traced the history of silk manufacture and its decline in exportation during the recent few years, urging his audience to refrain from consuming too much of the best quality themselves, thus leaving only a little proportion for export. On the other hand, Mr. Shen said, Japan exports all her fine quality silk and reserves only the worst for home consumption. As a result, she has five times the silk trade in European and American markets that China has.

Coming to the recent riot in Nanking, Mr. Shen stated that the local silk merchants are not in favor of the action of the Provincial Assembly in allowing the free establishment of cocoon depots. The legislators did so without consulting the merchants. Therefore, the local guild has filed a petition with the Civil Governors of Kiangsu and Chekiang, urging the rescinding of the legislation. He also expressed ed his gratification towards the press for its co-operation. Messrs. Hsu and Hsia replied on behalf of the Press. The delegation leaves for America Sunday on the Empress of Russia.

RICSHA MISSION, IN SEVENTH YEAR, WORKS WONDERS

Evangelistic, Educational And Relief Efforts Benefit
Thousands

The seventh annual report of the Shanghai Mission to Riksha Men for the year 1919 and 1920 shows the splendid work which is being done for the riksha coolies along evangelistic, educational and relief lines.

During the year 74,230 meals and rice tickets were distributed; 8,400 special Christmas food parcels given to needy families; 1,020 garments given out; and 156 men were sent to hospital.

The workers have made 6,800 visits to the homes of the coolies, and 10,500 visits to the stands of the men. The weekly attendance at the Sunday Schools averages 800 while the monthly attendance at the halls averages 13,000.

The Riksha Mission was founded in June of 1913 by Mr. George Matheson because of his sympathy for the coolies. The object of the mission is to help the coolies generally, and to ameliorate, as far as practicable, the condition of the sick and destitute among them.

All the departments are under the direct supervision of the director, Mr. Matheson, and the mission relies entirely for support upon voluntary contributions.

There are from 200,000 to 300,000 men who form the fluctuating army of riksha pullers in Shanghai during the year. The coolies' homes, various stands, eating and lodging houses are visited regularly by the mission staff in order to come into touch with as many as possible sick and destitute men.

Regular church services are held and in addition there are six weekly evangelistic meetings, two weekly Bible classes, and a Fellowship meeting.

Two Sunday schools are in session all the year, are well attended by the men and more than 2,000 children are enrolled. Two day schools are held in which elementary Chinese education is provided, and Christian instruction given. Bible women visit the wives of the men and have started industrial work among them.

In the development of the relief work, says Mrs. Annie M. Matheson, honorable secretary, "the program of practical Christianity is as closely adhered to as may be. Feed the hungry, clothe the naked, heal the sick and enlighten those who are in darkness: is the daily and yearly program."

Germany had carried out her international obligations, she might then enter the League.

For two years, M. Viviani continued, France had been waiting for effective guarantees. France expected justice. To admit Germany into the League now would be contrary to Article 1 of the Covenant which had been signed by all the members. It would, moreover, be setting an example of immorality and would shake the moral foundations of a true League of Nations.

Lord Robert Cecil, who followed, congratulated M. Viviani, on behalf of the Assembly, on his eloquent speech. Lord Robert said he fully endorsed the principles laid down by the French delegate. He hoped that Germany would soon give proof of determination to fulfil her obligations and so enter the League.

(Special Cable)
Geneva, Dec. 15.—The League of Nations' Council has approved a plan for an international credits organization as recommended by the Brussels financial conference.

GIRLS OF WUCHANG COLLEGE MAKE ATHLETIC HISTORY BY HOLDING FIELD MEET

Industrial School And Union Normal Show Popularity Gained By Football In Catalogue Of China's Sports

(China Press Correspondence)

December 14.—An athletic meet was held by students of the Girls Normal College, Wuchang, which is something unusual in the history of sports in this center. The meet was arranged for last week, but for continued rains or drizzle throughout that week, the event took place December 12.

A very large crowd of Chinese, men and women, turned out at the college compound at Wuchang to witness the girls performing athletic feats. The visitors began to pour in after noon time, and the compound was almost completely packed after a few hours, the number of visitors on that day totalling very nearly 1,000.

The day's program was not strictly athletic, but it was varied and interesting. Besides some athletic events which took place at intervals in between other items, the pretty girl students entertained the guests with fine music and dances. Every one present left the Girls Normal College compound with the impression that he had seen something unusual.

FOOTBALL IS POPULAR

The keen hold which football is acquiring upon China was again evidenced last Saturday afternoon when a fast game was played in Wuchang between the First Industrial School and the Union Normal College, Wuchang, on the latter's compound. The two contending teams as well as the visitors of the day were all purely Chinese, which evidenced a lively interest the Chinese take in things athletic.

The Union Normal College eleven got going very early in the game and scored by a surprise shot at close range. The defence of the visiting team was not equal to their attack and within the first fifteen minutes they again saw the leather flying between their posts. With commendable pluck the losers played hard until the oranges appeared.

The second half was marked by much more equal play; the Industrials showed greater stamina and had hard luck in not scoring. Suddenly a free kick being given against the Industrial Middle School, some "lucky fellows" of the team, sort of shouted loudly at the team to chuck the game and leave the field; the referee had an awkward time and all play ceased. Finally the "sweet reasonableness" of his decision carried the day and play was resumed.

The visiting team strove hard, especially during the last ten minutes. They panned the winners into their own goal mouth, but although helped by an occasional corner were unable to prevent the Normals from winning by two goals to nil.

RAIN POSTPONES RACES

The last extra off day races of the Hankow Race Club were held last Saturday, December 11. The races, which were to have taken place December 4, were postponed to December 11 on account of continued rainy days. Even on that date, however, the weather was not very clear, though there was no rain. But nevertheless a very large crowd of foreigners and Chinese turned out at the "Foreign Race Course" to witness the keenly competing spirit of the various ponies and their riders in spite of the chilly and windy weather.

The extra off day races of the Hankow Chinese Race Club were favoured by more favorable weather the next day, December 12 was at least a comparatively better day for racing, though the fine bright sky of the forenoon was clouded up by clouds in the afternoon. The bright weather of the morning drew out a large number of Chinese from the town to the suburban district of Hankow where the Chinese Race Course is situated. This will at least tend to make the Chinese enjoy and appreciate better than ever before outdoor life with its bracing and refreshing air and charming attractions.

Another tangible effect of the racing season in the Hankow Chinese Race Course is the introduction or popularisation of motor cars among the Chinese people. Motor car riding in Hankow is not popular to Chinese because of lack of good motor roads all round this big city. But if there is any motor road at all, it is the one lying in the suburb of Hankow about parallel to the city. This road is used only during summer nights by joy-

Stanford Boys Caught Scalping Football Tickets

Stanford University, November 18.—D. H. Riddell of San Francisco and E. C. Frost of Los Angeles, two Stanford students, were caught today scalping tickets to the big football game. They offered to sell tickets for $12.50 each. Their tickets were canceled; they were suspended from all student activities for one week; they will be put on probation for the rest of the year, and they are blacklisted for all time from getting tickets to the big football games.

Graduate Manager Martin is working hard to stamp out scalping, and he has a force of volunteer workers helping him, and anyone caught will be summarily punished.

ders as well as during the racing season, during which visitors team to the Race course in motor cars. So it is the races that do a good deal toward popularising motor car to Hankow Chinese.

AMATEURS IN DOUBLE BILL

The Hankow Amateur Dramatic Club are putting on a double bill for the coming Saturday. A delightful and clever one act comedy by Mr. A. A. Milne, who is well known to readers of "Punch" as "A.A.M.", entitled "Wuzzel-Flummery," to be followed by Gilbert and Sullivan's one act Operetta "Trial by Jury." This is the shortest of the Gilbert and Sullivan series, and was first produced in London in 1875 being revived several times since then. It is the only one in which there is no speaking at all, all words being sung throughout. The music is very tuneful, and still retains its freshness after all these years. The double chorus "A nice dilemma we have here" is an example of Sullivan in his happiest mood. The words of the operetta are being printed, and will be distributed to members of the Hankow Amateur Dramatic Club beforehand; a copy of them will also be placed in each program. So it can be well predicted that Saturday evening's performance will be a very enjoyable one.

LANDIS' FIRST JOB WILL BE TO CLEAN OUT GAMBLING

Chicago, November 15.—Presidents John Heydler and Ban Johnson of the National and American League are to ask the co-operation of Judge K. M. Landis, now that he is the supreme judge of baseball, in handling the serious gambling problem with which the game is confronted. They are to submit to him for review the names of players in both major organisations who are under suspicion, and are also to place in his possession evidence that has already been gathered on players and on the gamblers with whom they have been operating.

LANDIS ENTHUSIASTIC

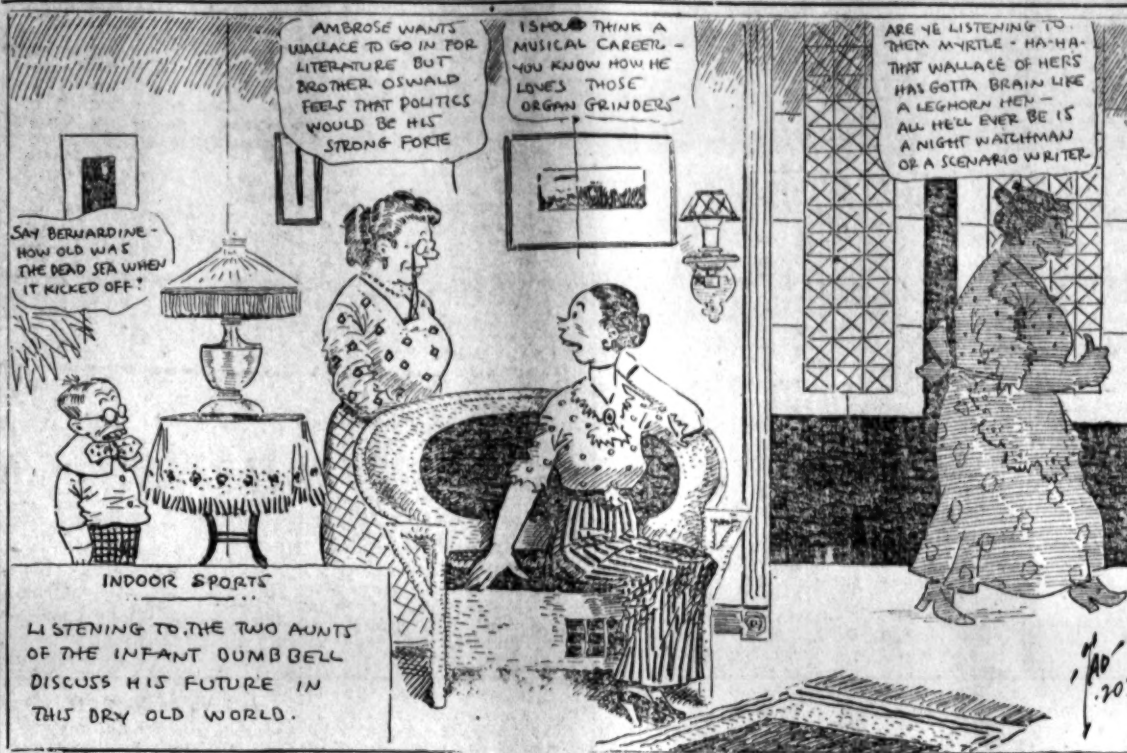

Landis is so wrapped up in his new venture that he is prepared to busy himself on any work the league presidents or magnates may have cut out for him. He would like to get after the gambling angle right away, because it is something in which he is greatly interested. He would like to ascertain how, when and where the corrupting of ball players began and whether there isn't a chance for him to bring the case into his court.

JOHNSON HAS DOPE

President Johnson recently declared he would have uncovered the names of probably more than 20 crooked ball players if he had succeeded in getting two St. Louis gamblers indicted. He added that he turned enough evidence in against them to the Cook county Grand Jury, but through the efforts of a certain well-known local attorney he did not succeed. He contends that if he had succeeded in securing the indictment of the two Mound City gamblers he would have obtained from one of them sufficient evidence to convict probably more than 20 ball players who are still on the reserve list of teams in the American and National leagues and who plan to play next year.

"BIG FOUR" MOVE MEETS FAVOR AT PENNSYLVANIA

Student Paper Would Have Penn, Columbia, Cornell, Dartmouth In

The Pennsylvania, the daily newspaper of the University of Pennsylvania, in a recent editorial article finds much to approve of in the movement for a Big Four, composed of Pennsylvania, Columbia, Cornell and Dartmouth. The suggestion is evidently one that has not been widely discussed at the local university, but the student paper believes that the alliance would result in "the fostering of a valuable feeling of friendship and mutual aid among four of the best collegiate institutions in the world."

The student journal has this to say of the idea: "That Cornell, Dartmouth, Columbia and Pennsylvania should form a Big Four eventually destined to rival Yale, Harvard and Princeton's Big Three is a suggestion which brings immediate interest. At Columbia such a move is already being openly advocated. It is held that there could be no valid objection to such a combination, and that the mutual benefits accruing to all four institutions would offer sufficient reason for its formation."

The actual accomplishment of such a union would not by any means involve the reconstruction of present schedules to the members of the union and a few smaller and weaker colleges. It would, however, result in the inclusion of regular annual contests between all four members and would engender a spirit of friendly rivalry and unity of purpose which would mean much to the undergraduate members of all. It is by such recognition of mutual equality that the best results of intercollegiate sports are obtained.

Girl Swimmers In N. Y. Break Record

New York, November 18.—A new unofficial world's record for a 400-yard indoor relay race for women swimmers was made here yesterday by a quartet of American Olympic stars, Ethelda Bleibtrey, Charlotte Boyle, Alice Lord and Alleen Riggins, competing against a quartet of team mates to whom they conceded thirty-five seconds, covered the distance in the remarkable time of four minutes, 46 1-5 seconds, or 17 1-5 seconds under the international indoor standard set by the junior team of the same organization in Detroit last April.

Official recognition will not be granted to the feat by the A. A. U., however, because the Carroll Club pool in which it was made measures fifty-eight feet while the A. A. U. rules prescribe a length of not less than sixty feet for record breaking.

Princeton Hotels Raided, Seven Arrests Are Made During Yale-Tiger Game

Federal Prohibition Agents Work While Princeton Is Beating Yale 20-0; Nassau Inn And Princeton House Visited By "Flying Squad" From Philadelphia

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 13.—In the midst of the excitement of the Princeton-Yale football game at Princeton this afternoon, Federal prohibition agents executed a quiet raid, netting two hotel proprietors as well as several alleged "bootleggers," seven prisoners in all. The prisoners were brought to Trenton where their bail was fixed at $1,000 each for alleged violation of the Volstead act.

Nassau Inn, well known to all Princeton graduates, and the Princeton House, another hostelry, figured in the raid. At the former place, it was stated, no intoxicants were found, although the raiding officers said they had been informed that liquor had been sold there in pint and half-pint bottles. The proprietor, R. B. Vogel, and two negro waiters, R. B. Demund of Long Branch and Walter H. Duckworth of Asbury Park, were arrested. At the Princeton House one barrel of whisky and a few bottles of cognac and brandy were found, and the proprietor, L. J. Deht, was arrested.

Another place visited was Chadwick's drug store. It was charged that Carrol Hulienbeck, soda-dis-

POLICE RAISE LARGE SUM FOR FAMINE RELIEF

Sporting Events At Race Course Bring In Good Returns For Charity

Nearly two thousand dollars were raised for the Chinese Foreign Famine Relief Fund by the Police when they held their sports at the Race Course on October 30. The net sum amounted to $1,896.65.

A meeting of the committee in charge of the sports was held last evening at the Central Police Station and reports of the result were given. The Honorary Treasurer, Mr. W. W. Kay, stated that the gross receipts of the meeting were $3,646.90 and that after prizes amounting to $1,091.95 had been awarded a substantial sum remained for the Famine fund. It was noted that the expenses of the events were exceptionally light.

Honorary Secretaries, Sergeants F. A. Treacher and J. A. Quayle were praised for the efficiency and economy with which they handled the meeting.

Special vote of thanks was offered to the Boy Scouts for the efficient service they gave and the ready manner in which they responded to a request for aid.

Another vote of thanks was tendered the donors who made possible the splendid financial showing.

Major League Clubs May Play More Games

New York, November 18.—When the major leagues hold their annual meetings in February they will consider a proposition to lengthen their schedules from 154 to 163 games, it was learned today.

Proponents of the plan argued that since many of the teams are allowed to play on Sunday on their home grounds, the season would not be unduly lengthened by the proposed change.

COMPETITION FOR DAVIS CUP IS ATTRACTING JAPANESE; PLAN NATIONAL TENNIS BODY

Honorary Secretary Of Tokio Lawn Tennis Club, Mr. T. Asabuki, Heading Movement In Various American Cities; Challenge Will Probably Come Next Year

Organisation of a national tennis association in Japan may be followed by a challenge for the famous Davis Cup, according to news reaching Tokio. Mr. T. Asabuki, honorary secretary of the Tokio Lawn Tennis Club for several years, and now in New York, is at the head of the movement. A story to this effect is carried in the sporting section of the New York Times of November 11. The story follows:

Indications that Japan may be preparing to join the international struggle for the Davis Cup, which has held the attention of the tennis-playing nations of the world for a score of years, are seen in a series of meetings in New York, Boston and Philadelphia between T. Asabuki of Tokio and officials of the United States Lawn Tennis Association.

BEGUN BY ASABUKI

These conferences had their beginning at a dinner given by Mr. Asabuki at the Plaza, his guests including, among others, Julian S. Myrick, President of the United States Lawn Tennis Association; Joseph M. Jennings, treasurer, and Paul W. Gibbons of Philadelphia, member of the National Executive Committee; Edward C. Conlin, Raymond D. Little, Karl H. Behr, Theodore Roosevelt Pell, Beals C. Wright, Charles S. Landers, President of the West Side Tennis Club, and S. Wallis Merriew, editor to American Lawn Tennis.

Having business to take him to Boston, Mr. Asabuki planned to meet men there who have been active in tennis and later to visit Philadelphia for the same purpose. For a number of years Mr. Asabuki has taken a leading part in the tennis affairs of Japan, and in Tokio he is the head of the principal club. There are now enough other clubs organized in various cities to comprise, together with the clubs in existence at the universities, the basis for a national association.

CHALLENGE FROM JAPAN

From time to time there has been discussions of a possible challenge for the Davis Cup by Japan, but this talk has always ignored the fact that before a nation can challenge for that trophy, it must have a duly recognised association. This accounts in part for the importance attached to the formation of the new association by the Japanese tennis enthusiasts.

Speaking at the dinner, Mr. Asabuki said that he intends, upon his return to Japan, to call together the men who have been most active in the development of the game and to take the necessary steps to form their association. If this work can be completed in time, efforts will probably be made to challenge for the Davis Cup contest of 1921.

The cordial response bestowed upon his fellow countrymen, Kumagae, Kashio and Yamasaki, for their playing ability and fine sportsmanship evidenced in many tournaments, pleased Mr. Asabuki greatly. In his judgment, this feeling will make easier the development of the

One Thousand Billiard Points In Five Minutes

This remarkable feat was performed by Charles Peterson, the fancy shot expert of St. Louis, in an exhibition at Brooklyn, N. Y., recently. Peterson made the remarkable run of 1,020 points in five minutes and twenty seconds. It is believed that the mark is a world's record for running 1,000 billiard points. The record was made at straight rail billiards. The photo shows Peterson just before the start of his record performance. This was his second attempt to run one thousand in five minutes. In his previous try he clicked off 920 points in the allotted time.

GERMAN BANKS IN A BIG MERGER

Deutsche Bank Increases Its Capital And Will Take Over Other Institutions

A GREAT PRE-WAR POWER Followed With Commercial Gauntlet Wherever Kaiser's Fist Led

BY GEORGE RENWICK

Berlin, November 3.—By an increase of its capital announced today from 275,000,000 marks to 400,000,000 the Deutsche Bank again becomes the bank with the biggest capital in Germany.

Sixty-eight and three-quarter millions will be offered to present shareholders at a premium of 120 percent, so that the bank will obtain for that portion 154,250,000 marks. The remainder additional capital will mainly consist of shares given in exchange for those of three other banking concerns, the Hanoverian Bank, a Brunswick private bank, and a private bank of Gotha, which the Deutsche Bank, already possessing most of their stock, will now buy up.

In addition working arrangements will be concluded with a Wartenberg banking company and the Hildesheim Bank.

Of the Deutsche Bank in pre-war times it might be said it represented more than any other institution in old Imperial Germany. It built the Baghdad Railway and its interests in England and France, Argentina and Russia were alike enormous. It was and is behind such firms as Siemens and Halske and Mannesmann Brothers. It controlled the Russian oil fields till old Germany went down. Today the cigarette trade of Germany is in its hands.

The greatest industrial magnates in Germany would be but reeds were it not for the support of the Deutsche Bank. It superintended nine German war loans, and wherever the challenging mailed fist went the Deutsche Bank was not far behind with its commercial gauntlet.

Money Smugglers Caught In Austria

Gang Had Made Millions By Carrying Notes Across The Frontiers

Vienna, November 2.—Viennese detectives put a stop yesterday to the work of a gang of so-called Valuta smugglers who recently smuggled no less than 30,000,000 kronen across the frontiers. Valuta smuggling consists of taking currency across the frontiers to use it speculatively in foreign countries, this being in flagrant contravention of the law.

The gang in question already was seated in a train yesterday which was to leave Vienna for Trieste when detectives noticed a trunk being removed from one compartment to the dining car. No trace of the trunk was found in the dining car and the attendant denied all knowledge of it. The detectives threatened to have the dining car uncoupled and detained, whereupon the attendant produced the trunk, which was found to contain kronen notes amounting to about $300,000 in nominal value. A further search produced still another trunk and a rucksack, these being both filled with kronen and Keresky ruble notes.

Inquiries made on the spot elicited the fact that the attendant was the accomplice of the gang and these as well as the attendant were duly arrested. They immediately offered half a million bribe if the detectives would allow them to continue their journey with the smuggled money. The offer rose to 1,000,000, and then finding a greater gesture was needed the chief of the gang said the detectives could keep all if only they would release the prisoners.

The detectives not only persevered in the arrest, but insisted upon searching the business premises of the gang. Their books show they had been engaged in this smuggling business for three months, using the dining car as a cover when the compartments were searched at the various frontiers. During this short period the profits show the respectable total of well over $2,500,000.

VOTE TO WIND UP OVERSEAS CLUB

Meeting, In Deciding, Leaves Opportunity For Re-establishing Branch

The Shanghai branch of the Overseas Club, founded here in March, 1915 and active in the donation of funds to the Royal Flying Corps and to hospital work during the war, was voted out of existence at a meeting held yesterday in the Royal Asiatic Society lecture hall. The decision to wind up the organization's affairs was so made, however, that if members, during the next three months, wish to reconsider the action it may be reestablished.

Yesterday's meeting was presided over by Sir Everard Fraser, the president, and was very poorly attended, which fact was pointed out by the president as an indication of the lack of interest with which members regard the organization now that the war is over.

The proposal to wind up the Club's affairs was made by Sir Everard and after it had been seconded two members demurred to the proposal. An amendment, to continue the organization under the name of the Patriotic League and Overseas Club, was lost, however, 5 to 3, and the original motion was then carried.

The Club has at the present time something over £1,300 in subscriptions at its disposal, besides a bank balance in Shanghai of $1,579.23. It was proposed by the president that the first sum be allocated as follows: £500 to the war memorial building of the parent club in London; £250 to the home for blind sailors and soldiers at St. Dunstan's; £250 to London hospitals; £250 and the interest on $13,000 in Straits Settlement war bonds to the maintenance of the Netley beds in London hospitals. The balance, as well as the proceeds of the Straits bonds at maturity, it is proposed to give to the Club in London toward the maintaining of a Shanghai room in the proposed new building. It was proposed finally that the

Thief Snatches Purse Of Mrs. Muir, Containing Money And Transportation

On the eve of her departure for Australia Mrs. H. H. Muir, due to leave on the Katori Maru today, was robbed of her purse which contained two steamer tickets, her letter of credit, 30 one-pound sterling notes, one hundred Mexican dollars and some small money.

A Chinese snatched the bag from her about 6 o'clock last night on Kiukiang Road near the Cathedral School. A Chinese believed to be the thief was caught by Mr. Silva and arrested but the brown leather purse which contained Mrs. Muir's property, was not recovered. The Chinese had evidently thrown it away as he was chased by Silva or passed it to a confederate.

With her daughter and Mrs. J. S. Chisholm, Mrs. Muir had left the Kalee Hotel, going to a silk shop on Honan Road for some final purchases. The Chinese made a grab for the purse and Mrs. Muir held it, but lost her grip when the Chinese made a second attempt.

She screamed and Silva started after the fleeing Chinese, catching him and turning him over to a Chinese police constable who took him to Central Station.

One or two silver dollars, dropped from the purse, was found on Kiukiang Road but the rest of the property could not be located.

Eleanor Haber To Give Monologue At Astor On Wednesday

In addition to being a very talented entertainer, Miss Haber has the distinction of being the first woman motion picture "impresario" to invade the Far East. It was she who brought to Shanghai the wonderfully dramatic film "The Confession."

Page 145: Q—"Now in case of Gov. Ex. C. whose initials are those?"
A—"Mr. Boulon's."

Q—"Would that mean anything to you?"
A—"I have put the entry then for Mr. Boulon's own account."

Page 146: Q—"And the same would follow purchase contract No. 509, and to No. 511 and sale of contract No. 192 (All Boulon's contracts)?"
A—"Yes."

Q—"I show you Gov. Ex. X and point to notation in the corner, Hong Tai and Co. What would that mean to you if you received that contract? That means that it is for account of Hong Tai and Co.?"
A—"Yes."

Q—"Then from instructions you received regarding these contracts and from the face of the contracts which led you to ask for instructions, you would say that the contracts were for Mr. Boulon?"
A—"Yes."

Re-Direct Testimony:
Mr. Green:
Page 147: In answer to question about placing name in proper column.

A—"Yes, it might have been better to. All that was necessary for our records was to put that initial in the corner."
Page 148: In answer to question as to whether or not initials mean anything to Auditor or any one looking over books:

A—"Well, as far as I was concerned they would indicate."

Re-Cross Examination:
Mr. Green:
Page 148: Q—"Then it was at your own discretion whether or not you used the initials in the margin or wrote Mr. Boulon's name in full in Client's Column?"

A—"Yes, it was."

In answer to whether or not Mr. Green went to Mr. Boulon about missing contracts:
Q—"Have you gone in to Mr. Boulon on occasions of that kind?"

A—"I was sent in by Mr. Jones to ask him."

Q—"And did you get the information yourself?"
A—"Yes."

The Court: Q—"What information did you get?"
A—"I remember in one instance when I went in to ask him if that was for his account and he said yes."

Mr. Beeson On Direct Examination:
Page 63: Mr. Beeson states that the $20,000 transaction was properly entered in the exchange books.

Page 65: Q—"What is the entry in the margin?"
A—"To offset purchase of $20,000 now taken up by ourselves."

Q—"And Mr. Boulon's initials appear in the margin?"
A—"Yes, there is a possibility that these initials were put there by Mr. Green. It is immaterial."

Page 67: Q—"On page 92 initials in the margin 'F.G.B.' on page 94 there are two endorsements 'F.G.B.' and on page 98 you see three endorsements 'F.G.B.' in the same writing?"
A—"Yes, all of which are out in the margin."

The Court: What would you as the Auditor of the Company infer from these initials?

A—"It is impossible to infer, because there is no regularity in having initials put in the margin of the entry. It may indicate the person who entered it. If the initials indicate the person who entered the entry, would it not seem strange that those initials only appear against Mr. Boulon's purchases?"

Page 67: Q—"And would the person initialing the entry put 'for account of' alongside the initials?"
A—"That appears about once does it not?"

Q—"It appears twice there and in the book it appears several times, I think?"
A—"You understand that I am not denying that these were bought by Mr. Boulon for the purpose of being for his own account, but without the right to do so and without anybody's sanction."

Page 121: "Shows Mr. Beeson admitting many contracts not entered in chronological order."

Further: He shows where the $20,000 settlement was only entered as a purchase when taken over from Mr. Boulon and that transaction netted Mr. Boulon a profit.

Page 128: Again Mr. Beeson shows $20,000 settlement only entered in Exchange Purchase Book when purchased from or taken over from Mr. Boulon.

From this there was as much regularity in the entry of Mr. Boulon's contracts as was deemed necessary in the usual course of business.

Note further that all the contracts claimed by Mr. Boulon as his transactions bear the initials

"F.G.B." and that the uncontradicted testimony of Mr. Boulon is that these initials were placed on the contracts immediately same came into his possession.

Claiming these contracts as his own we can well see why Mr. Boulon might keep the same on his desk.

And Mr. Boulon well explains that all the contracts came to him through the accounting department where they might, of course, have been entered. Claiming the contracts as his own transactions Mr. Boulon would not attach a great deal of importance to their entry in the books of the complainant, at least not such importance as would prompt him to personally see to it that the same were entered regularly. This, as manager, he would most naturally do, and have the right to presume.

In fact Mr. Jones says (Page 185 transcript) that "he never knew Boulon to look at the books."

Mr. Boulon's intention regarding the exchange transactions is further demonstrated by the fact that certain of the later contracts were guaranteed by Chinese friends of the defendant.

Why if these transactions were entered into for the account of the firm, should Mr. Boulon seek to have them guaranteed against loss? It was stated that the firm never had its contracts guaranteed.

Mr. Boulon stated clearly that at the time when the last few contracts were purchased (Gov. Ex. "G") exchange was low; that he had purchased forward for a considerable period; that he was planning on a trip home, all of which is supported in the evidence and not contradicted. For these reasons coupled with the fact that the financial position of the firm was not strong, he felt that possibly while he was away from Shanghai the firm might be called upon by the bank to pay a loss on his account; that therefore he got his Chinese friends to agree to pay the loss to the firm should any loss result during his absence.

We refer here to the evidence of Mr. Tsu (Page Nos. refer to the transcript).

Mr. Tsu Direct Testimony:
Page 41: Mr. Tsu stated that he raised objections on two other occasions. Questioned further it developed that he had been asked to sign contracts.

Q—"What did you sign it for?"
A—"He asked me to guarantee the exchange."

Page 42: Q—"Did he show you more than one?"
A—"About three or four."

Q—"But why did he ask you to guarantee the exchange, what had you to do with it?"
A—"Mr. Boulon said 'I am manager of the place' or something to that effect and he said 'It is not right for me to go into the exchange business.'"

Cross Examination:
Page 49: Re Gov. Ex. C., contract for $10,000.

A—"That is signed by me."

Q—"And that is the one you guaranteed for Mr. Boulon?"
A—"Yes."

Q—"And you did not know why you guaranteed it, you say?"
A—"I did not know."

Page 50: Q—"Suppose while Mr. Boulon was not here there had been a loss on this contract would you have paid that loss to the firm?"
A—"I would have to bear the responsibility."

Q—"So that you would bear the loss if the contract had been sold at a loss?"
A—"Yes."

Q—"The firm could not have lost anything by those transactions?"
A—"Of course since I signed it the Company, G. W. W. would have asked me to make good."

Q—"Then you knew that you were signing as a guarantee, did you not?"
A—"Yes."

Page 52: In answer to the Court:
Q—"Who did you think that you were guaranteeing when you signed this exchange contract?"
A—"Mr. Boulon. No I was not guaranteeing the firm."

Mr. Boulon's contentions and claims are:

That he had the right to settle exchange in the firm's name for his account.

That he was forced to settle exchange in the firm's name but for his own account and risk—as in previous cases formally charged against him;—because the firm was so short of funds as to be unable to meet some of its pressing obligations and were not in a position to speculate;—further, the Asia Banking Corporation—as has been admitted, cautioned the firm against speculating in exchange.

First: To enable him to secure funds to assist in carrying on the firm's business.

Second: To enable him to secure enough additional funds—over and above what firm was able to advance to enable Mr. Boulon to proceed to New York to attend a conference of foreign managers.

That the defendant had the right to settle exchange through the firm but for his own account and risk is based first on precedent, second on custom or practice, by right given to managers or responsible employees, and third by necessity.

In support of these claims, we submit the following:

By precedent: Your Honor is referred to page 60 of the transcript wherein it is shown that Mr. Beeson, one of the complainant's witnesses, acknowledging that he knew that Mr. Boulon had, during last spring or early last winter, settled through the firm but for defendant's risk and account, the sum of $20,000, which sum was sold by defendant during December and which sale, was, during last January 1920, turned over to his employers at their request, as admitted by Mr. Beeson on page 65, wherein he states "Two months later he sold it to the company so that it then became the company's risk, relieving him of the risk and the Company used the exchange up in several transactions. It was bought back because the company needed some 'Gold'—and again on page 122, when asked by his Honor, the Commissioner—as to "why Mr. Boulon was permitted to buy $20,000 and the Company take it over," Mr. Beeson replied: "As I just stated, the company in this case could take over, which simply amounted to taking over the responsibility for that exchange purchase, without losing any money because the rate had declined between the time that exchange was first bought and the Company took it over showing a profit, which we did not question, allowing Mr. Boulon in this case, inasmuch as it appeared all the way through as his transaction."

That this knowledge was not only known to Mr. Beeson is shown by Mr. Jones on page 166 of the transcript where under cross examination he admitted that "no exception was taken to Mr. Boulon settling $20,000, to his knowledge."

Further Mr. Beeson admitted that this settlement took place during the district manager, Mr. Coleman's tenure of office and it is further shown on page 71 of the transcript that Mr. Coleman used $20,000 of this same settlement—and further on pages 60 and 135 Mr. Beeson gives his reason for not reporting this settlement to his superiors in New York.

What is proven by these admissions? We find that Mr. Boulon had been in the habit of settling exchange through the firm for his own account and risk. That the risk and responsibility was up to Mr. Boulon as was admitted, not once but twice, that the firm would not have taken same over if it showed a loss that it was conceded that profit belonged to defendant and was allowed him—and further, it is shown that Mr. Beeson so much regarded Mr. Boulon as having the right that he did not consider it necessary to report same to his superiors in New York, or even to Mr. Coleman, the district manager, nor did Mr. Coleman report same.

That this settlement of exchange was made in the same manner as these under the present charges—that the contract was initiated by Mr. Boulon as for his account—that it was sent in to the accounting department only after sale was made and that it was entered in the Company's books in the same manner is shown by complainant's (Beeson's) testimony on pages 121 and 128 of the transcript—again on page 172 by Mr. Jones.

By custom and practice, by right given managers to settle exchange through the firm for their own account.

This is supported by plaintiff's own testimony wherein Mr. Beeson on page 64 of the transcript stated "It is not infrequently done by managers or employees in responsible position. It is not infrequently done by the company's books a small amount for their own purpose for which they may settle exchange."

And again on page 135 in replying to a question as to why he had not reported this settlement of $20,000 previously mentioned, he testifies: "Well, I consider that the amount was rather excessive, but at the same time I considered that the manager in his capacity, and the salary he was getting, was quite responsible for any loss that might be sustained. I did not consider it a serious risk even on that account, although it was a considerable sum."

Does not this, coming from the complainant's chief witness, one who was with the company in Shanghai the longest period, of those who testified, one who acted as Auditor for the company and under pay and orders from the head office, clearly prove that it was an acknowledged right which Mr. Boulon had to settle exchange through the firm for his own account and risk providing same was done within his means—so much so that although Mr. Beeson thought the amount excessive he does not report same to his superiors?

This right is further established by complainant's witnesses, Messrs. J. Harold Dollar and W. A. Burns—both general managers for the firms they represent—who admitted that in their positions they settled exchange for their own account and risk through the firm, and further that they granted to responsible employees under their right, or settled for them such exchange as they desired—and that when carried on excessively the employee was liable only to dismissal.

Necessity: That it was necessary for Mr. Boulon to settle exchange in the firm's name for his personal account and risk with object of leaving profits so resulting credited to his account is shown by the defendant's own testimony before your Honor in that the firm was on numerous occasions hard pressed for funds. That the firm did not speculate in exchange, that the firm was not in a position to speculate in exchange even if it so desired, that the firm had been forbidden to speculate in exchange by its bankers on account of its financial position, that the reason defendant did so—was that he was willing to take limited risks himself and to permit profits so resulting to remain to his credit—the firm in the meantime using the profits so resulting, which is evidenced by an examination of defendant's statement (Gov. Ex. "C-G-C") which will show that from April 1 he permitted the credits to accumulate, his account having been debited after his departure from New York and since with items incidental to his trip.

The defendant's contentions are supported in complainant's testimony before the Commissioner's Court and before your Honor wherein the complainant's witnesses testify that the firm was at times hard pressed for funds—even to the extent that if part of the check for Tls. 12,250.54 was not returned by defendant it meant overdrawn the firm's bank account and again, that the check for Tls. 1,333.71 was given to Mr. Boulon because when firm was approached for funds to take him to New York—the firm here were not able to give him the amount necessary. The complainant has not denied defendant's statements that the firm was very badly off financially, nor have they offered any evidence to refute his statement to this effect or to the effect that the profits on exchange transactions claimed by him, were urgently needed and used to meet pressing obligations.

Nor have they refuted his claim or testimony that the particular exchange sold resulting in a profit of Tls. 1,333.71 was not as defendant has testified—purposely purchased and sold so that any profits arising would be used by defendant towards his expenses to New York.

Defendant has testified before your Honor that he did not know until the conference on October 14, 1920 that this check of Tls. 1,333.71 had never been entered in the regular course of routine on the company's record. This has not been contradicted.

Mr. Boulon has testified before your Honor that he never gave any instructions whatsoever to be effect that no entries should be made or eliminated from company's record. There is no evidence to the contrary.

Complainant's witness on page 191 of transcript of preliminary does not definitely state the reason why this check was given to Mr. Boulon—but does state that "there may have been a lot of conversation about taking the check towards his travelling expenses," showing that at that time, only a few days before his departure, that the necessity was recognised inasmuch as the firm did not have a bank balance and was forced to secure a loan from a bank to pay their June salary, which loan had to be returned in a few days—and that there was a possibility that if this check had been deposited in the company's bank account that it could not have been withdrawn on account of the overdraft position which then amounted to over one hundred thousand taels. The complainant's silence on this charge by defendant can only show that this was what was planned at the time the check was handed to defendant, which fact is supported by complainant's witness on page 192 of the transcript where he says "Could not make entry because he delivered check to Mr. Boulon and because it was not going through the company's book."

Other testimony introduced overwhelmingly supports defendant's right to the profits of this exchange and specific purpose for which the transaction was entered into.

The Court will find in the complainant's testimony and in complainant's brief the insinuation, inference, and later, claim that defendant used Mr. Jones, the plaintiff's accountant, as an accomplice in the carrying out of these exchange transactions. This inference and charge is not only false but when compared with the record it is proven to be malicious. Statements made by Mr. Jones that "he winked" at the proceedings and was not in a position "to squeal" at what he considered irregular proceedings—were only—and could only have been made by an intimidated witness. In fact these answers were suggested by counsel in the examination and must be taken more as testimony of counsel than the witness.

It is necessary to review the entire proceedings in order to substantiate our claim that Mr. Jones was intimidated in making the above statements.

First, as admitted in testimony by him, he was connected with the Company since April 1918. He therefore knew of any transactions entered into by defendant before these under review in the hearing, took place. He had admitted that he knew and Beeson knew of the first exchange transaction of $20,000 mentioned in the hearing, which has been admitted as belonging to defendant, and which, to Mr. Beeson's knowledge, was never reported because it was in order. He, then, as chief accountant entered, or directed to be entered the necessary entries through the firm's book, in the same manner as he directed the entries for the defendant's purchase of exchange under Counts three, four, five and six of the original charges, which brought the period of these transactions down through Feb.-March, to the middle of April.

That about that time, Jones knowing that if he desired to settle exchange, he had to do so under sanction of the manager, and that he did secure the manager's permission to settle exchange through the firm in his own name for his account and risk is admitted by complainant's witnesses, Jones and Beeson who testified that the defendant granted permission to Jones and one other employee to settle exchange on two or three occasions.

If the defendant was able to put through four exchange transactions through the firm's books with Jones' knowledge and with Beeson's firm's Auditor admitting that he knew of the $20,000 transaction, how can it be claimed that Mr. Boulon suddenly, toward the end of April, had need of an accomplice? Counsel's inferences have not been well thought out.

There is no question and no doubt whatsoever, but the profits resulting out of sale of exchange netting the sum of Tls. 1,333.71 and Tls. 12,250.54 less Tls. 29.02 (Which represents an error in calculations) as being Mr. Boulon's profits.

Mr. Boulon stands in the same relation to the firm as any other merchant buying Exchange or merchandise through the firm. In the case of the merchant settling exchange through the firm or buying merchandise, the Banks or Manufacturers only know and recognise Gaston, Williams and Wigmore, Far Eastern Division Inc. in the transaction, but that exchange or merchandise is purchased for the account and risk of the merchant, and as soon as it reaches the firm's hands it becomes a liability in favor of the merchant. The same is applicable to Mr. Boulon. He, with the right given him through custom and his position as Manager, purchases and sells Exchange through the Company for his own risk and account, but in amounts which does not, due to his salary and position, involve the Company in any risk. These transactions are carried out by the Company, for him and for his account, as an accommodation to him, and the Company, although receiving the profits from or through the Bank must turn same over to him as same belongs to Mr. Boulon.

The evidence shows that the amount of Tls. 1,333.71 is the profit on $10,000 purchased on June 22 and sold on June 25. It further shows, and we have proved that this Exchange, as all other Exchange purchased by the defendant, through the Company, and for his own account and risk, was and did belong to the defendant.

The Complainant's testimony shows that this check of Tls. 1,333.71 was paid to Gaston, Williams and Wigmore Far Eastern Division Inc. by the Asia Banking Corporation, and that said Check was received by the Company's accounting department in the usual manner in which such checks are received.

It has further been shown in evidence, and admitted, to that this same check was given to Mr. Boulon for the reason that: his employers were not in a position financially to deposit same to their own bank account; that if they did so there was a possibility of same being held up by the firm's Bank on account of large overdraft and the fact that the Bank had agreed to, and did advance to the Company sufficient monies to meet their June Payroll, which advance had to be returned within a few days; that they had no funds in the Bank to their credit at this time is shown by the Complainant's witness on page 173 of the transcript wherein he says, that it was necessary to get back the Tls. 12,000.00 from Mr. Boulon, otherwise their (Available) balance (under overdraft) would have been overdrawn.

These facts have not been contradicted by Complainants, nor have they introduced testimony or evidence to refute same. On the contrary, they support defendant's testimony on this point by further testifying, as on pages 125 and 126 of transcript, that he had a credit on the Company's books at the time that the check was given to the defendant. Complainant's witness, Jones, further testifies on page 192 of transcript, that "he delivered check to Mr. Boulon because it was not going through the Company's Books," showing and proving conclusively, that there was a reason for this act, in that the Company could not take the risk of making the deposit to their own account; otherwise Mr. Boulon would have started for New York with merely $1,000.00 towards an expense account for his trip which amounted to about $3,500.00, as testified to by the defendant and not refuted by the Complainants.

That this check for Tls. 1,333.71 was passed over to Mr. Boulon in the regular manner is shown by the fact that this check, as admitted by Mr. Beeson under direct examination, (see page 6 of transcript) and again under cross examination, was properly endorsed with two signatures, Messrs. Jones and Boulon, which complied with the necessary dual endorsement for disbursing funds from the Company's account.

That this check did not go through the Company's record was unknown to the defendant until after his return from New York, in fact not till the conference of October 14, as was testified to by the defendant before your Honor. He, supposed that a record of this check had been kept in the accounting department as it had been duly received in that department and delivered to him, and delivered to him because then and there it was known and recognised as representing profits on his exchange, as admitted to by Complainant's witness on page 192 of transcript.

It has been testified to by defendant and admitted by the Complainants, which is shown on many occasions, that the defendant never gave any instructions to the effect that the entry of this check or any other record should not be made in the Company's books. If entry of this check does not appear it is not at Complainant's instructions.

Further, since defendant has testified and as has been admitted by Complainants, that no instructions were given to the effect that entry of this check or other record should not be made, it is not right to claim that the defendant would have questioned the passing of this amount of Tls. 1,333.71 from the Company's funds to him in this manner if such was wrongfully done? Defendant must have known and did know, that the Bank could only pass on payment of this check to Mr. Boulon's own account with a dual endorsement which did appear as required on the back of this check.

We do not find from the evidence or testimony offered by Complainants that their Bank questioned the payment of this check at the time that it went through their hands. Mr. Boulon, through delay in steamer sailing, was here in Shanghai until July 6. If the Bank had questioned this payment which was made on June 25 or thereabouts, would they not have questioned or called him to account for same before he left?

The evidence and testimony plainly shows that the Complainants themselves questioned this matter only after Mr. Swift's arrival on Sept. 29, at which time they investigated Mr. Boulon's claims upon them.

We are satisfied from the evidence, testimony and facts surrounding this check of Tls. 1,333.71, that your Honor will find that, no conversion of his employer's funds took place. That Mr. Boulon was given this check which represented his profits on his exchange as claimed by him because the money was needed by him and that it was not credited to his account in the usual manner, because the firm were not in position to draw their check in Mr. Boulon's favor.

As to the check for Tls. 12,250.54, contrary to Complainant's charges, the defendant did not direct his subordinates to prepare this check for this amount. It has been admitted by defendant that he directed a check be drawn for the results of a sale of exchange made by him on June 9 and another sale of exchange made on June 15. Ten days later, as the evidence and testimony shows, a check was given to Mr. Boulon, on June 25, but not for the amount he had expected which was about Tls. 9,200.00, but for Tls. 12,250.54.

Considerable evidence and testimony has been introduced by Complainants concerning this check and the make up of same, all of which goes in support of defendant's testimony before your Honor, which when summarised is that the defendant:

Did not request a check for Tls. 12,250.54.

Did not instruct that same be made up in favor of one, Yea Kong-yung.

Did not claim or admit that it covered profits due three Chinese.

Did not give this check to one, Tsu, and ask him to pass same (Continued on Page 12)

Ewo Cotton Has Successful Year

The 25th ordinary meeting of shareholders in the Ewo Cotton Spinning and Weaving Co., Ltd., was held yesterday at the office of the general managers, Messrs. Jardine, Matheson and Co., Ltd.

Mr. A. Brooke-Smith presided and was supported by Messrs. C. G. Mackie, E. E. Clark, Zee Quan-yuen, and a large attendance of shareholders.

The secretary having read the notice convening the meeting and the auditors' Report, the chairman said:

The report and statement of accounts having been in your hands for the past 10 days, I will, with your permission, take them as read.

It gives the general managers and the consulting committee great pleasure to present such a highly satisfactory result of last year's working, the profit being Tls. 2,129,741.75, which exceeds our previous record by some 50 percent.

At the commencement of our last financial year, trading conditions were most favorable, as there was a brisk demand for our mill products at high prices, and we were able to manufacture profitably owing to comparatively cheap cotton. Since the late Spring, however, the deflation in the values of most commodities throughout the world, also the Japanese financial crisis, have reacted on this market and the trend of prices has been continually downward. In local cotton yarn, this has been particularly pronounced—as an instance, our 20s "5 Men" chop was selling in February for Tls. 235-240 per bale, whereas early in October it was only fetching Tls. 135, recovering within a fortnight to Tls. 165, but now nominally Tls. 148. Demand for Yarn, however, has been consistently steady, and as we have been able to keep our order book well filled, we have come through without any losses in this branch of our business.

In cloth we have not been so fortunate, as the handsome profits we were making during the earlier part of our year have been somewhat discounted by the losses we have since sustained owing to a few defaulting dealers. In view of the very serious crisis through which the piece goods trade in China is now passing, we have dealt drastically with stocks of cloth in our accounts, and we trust that we have provided for the worst.

Cotton throughout our past year has been plentiful and reasonably cheap, considering the high prices of mill products. The China crop was considerably smaller than usual owing to unfavorable weather conditions, but with high exchange rates ruling and Japan being overstocked with Indian and American grades there was little export from China, and local mills were readily able to obtain their supplies of fair quality. Useful grades of Indians were also available at cheap rates, but good varieties of American were comparatively dear owing to the general poor quality of their last crop. During the past few months, all cotton prices have declined very heavily, and we may consider ourselves rather fortunate in not having had to carry forward too large a stock at the dear prices. As usual, our stock has been taken over at cost but with 2 lakhs of Taels at credit of cotton fluctuation fund we can view the future with equanimity.

As regards the allocation of the profits, I trust the recommendations of the consulting committee will have your approval.

The dividend of 7 percent, of the Preference Shares is, of course, the first charge on our profits, and calls for no comment. The proposed final dividend of Tls. 68, on the Ordinary Shares with the Interim Dividend of Tls. 22, makes a total of Tls. 90 per share and represents slightly more than 84 percent of the year's profits, which we feel sure will be satisfactory to shareholders. In this connection your consulting committee consider that so long as our reserves are maintained at their present level the company can afford to be liberal in regard to dividends.

The proposal to write off Tls. 100,000 and Tls. 50,000 from plant and machinery and build funds respectively, is the same as last year and in accordance with our custom of allowing liberally for depreciation, which also applies to the small items of Tls. 218.50 and Tls. 1,000 off water supply and furniture respectively.

In view of the decline to 92 1/2 percent of the 1919 issue of Municipal Debentures, for a lakh of which we paid 95 percent, our auditors recommend that we write down our holding by Tls. 2,500 in order to bring this investment down to market value.

The Tls. 50,000 allocated to special repairs and renewal fund will bring the balance of this account to Tls. 124,677.86, and will enable us to maintain our policy of keeping the mills up to the fullest state of efficiency. In the near future we shall have to spend somewhat liberally on the property of the No. 1 Mill, and also renew and enlarge the sanitary and other arrangements for our native operatives.

The proposal to subscribe Tls. 20,000 to War Funds is similar to last year when our donation was most gratefully acknowledged by those in charge of the King's Fund for the Disabled, and I think we cannot do better than again support this fund.

The proposed bonus of Tls. 50,000 to be divided amongst the foreign and native staffs at the mills has been well earned, and will, I have no doubt, be greatly appreciated.

Our contingency against the increasing number of employees who qualify for the benefits of the Chinese Superannuation Fund will be covered by the provision of Tls. 20,000.

The issue of the whole of the remaining 5,000 ordinary shares that was sanctioned last January has now been completed and the balance at credit of share premium account in connection therewith amounts to Sh. Tls. 763,131.20, which is made up of the premium of Tls. 145 per share, and profit on 144 unclaimed shares sold for the benefit of the Company. I propose, with your sanction, that this sum shall be placed to reserve fund, bringing that fund up to Tls. 1,263,131.20.

Including the foregoing, our various reserve funds will aggregate Tls. 2,087,809.06, which, on an ordinary share capital of Tls. 1,000,000, may be considered highly satisfactory.

During the past year, the matter of insurance against loss of profit resulting from fire, has been satisfactorily arranged on the basis of the average profit for the previous 3 years.

The expansion of our business and the constant strain of day and night work on our plant and machinery have rendered it necessary for us to make purchases of new machinery for our spinning mills to the value of about 500,000/70,000. Owing to the maker's heavy engagement, we shall not be able to obtain delivery for 15/18 months—the prices were undoubtedly high compared with our original equipment, although we have been assisted to some extent by higher exchange.

We have also purchased additional 88 looms to completely fill our second weaving shed—these have recently arrived and will presently be working.

In order to keep abreast of the times and also to relieve the strain on our old steam power plant, we are arranging to drive the No. 1 Mill by electricity to be obtained from the Shanghai Municipal Council. As we are already large consumers of electrical power in our various departments, we consider that the support of the Council's enterprise in this connection is due from such concerns as this company, and we therefore invested in Sh. Tls. 100,000 worth of 7 percent Municipal Debentures 1919.

During the past year the Customs abolished the Coast trade duty (that is the half tariff duty on import) of Chinese raw cotton, which marked a welcome step on the part of the Chinese Government towards fostering the cotton mill industry in China. It is to be hoped that they will shortly be able to see their way to abolish the whole of the inland taxation at present imposed on the raw material and the finished products of factories in China.

The past year has been a difficult one for all employers of native labor, but we have anticipated any serious troubles by wages to meet the higher cost of living.

As regards future prospects, I am afraid that the universal financial stringency, and the decline in the values of all commercial commodities, must exert a depressing influence upon our business for some time to come, but of the future success and expansion of the cotton industry in China there can be no doubt, and I trust we shall shortly experience better trading conditions. Theoretically low exchange should benefit cotton mills in China, but I would remind you that record profits were made when silver was at its zenith.

We have received a petition signed by a number of shareholders representing 2,195 ordinary shares, asking that each of the Ordinary Tls. 50 shares of the company be divided into ten shares of Tls. 5 each. I may mention that a similar petition is also expected from shareholder in Hongkong, and when that is received, the matter will receive the consideration of the consulting committee.

There were no questions and the following resolutions were then unanimously adopted:

That the report and accounts be adopted, with allocation of profit and transfer of share premium to reserve fund as proposed.

Proposed by the chairman and seconded by Mr. E. E. Clark.

That Messrs. A. Brooke-Smith, E. E. Clark, C. Gordon Mackie, and Zee Quan-yuen be re-elected as consulting committee.

Proposed by Mr. A. J. Welch and seconded by Mr. J. Spunt.

That Messrs. Lowe, Bingham and Matthews be re-elected auditors at a fee of Tls. 1,500 for the year.

Proposed by Mr. J. Boyce Kup and seconded by Mr. Woo Lang-shu.

The chairman intimated that dividend warrants payable today, would be available yesterday afternoon at the office of the general managers.

Mr. Brodie A. Clarke—I think before we go it is due to our most worthy chairman and the advisory board that we should thank them very much for the manner in which they have looked after our interests in the past year and for the very handsome dividend that we are going to receive. I think that Mr. Brooke-Smith's speech has been very interesting to all of us and I feel sure that we cannot leave our interests in better hands than those who have so ably conducted them through a very unprofitable year. I feel sure you will join with me in thanking them very sincerely for the work they have done.

Mr. Brooke Smith, in reply, said—Mr. Brodie Clark and gentlemen, I thank you for the very nice way in which you have received Mr. Clark's remarks and I can assure you, speaking on behalf of myself and the other members of the consulting committee, that we greatly appreciate them. We have had a very difficult time, as Mr. Clark has said, and I dare say in the future we are likely to encounter difficulties also, but in my mind there is no doubt that the Ewo Mill will be able to hold its head up through the most inactive time and will be in a position to do well again when trade is robust. I do not wish the shareholders to think we are doing badly at the present time at all. Cotton mills in Shanghai are still holding their heads up in spite of trade in other directions being poor and I hope that when we meet again next year we shall be able to show a satisfactory report although I do not think we can reasonably expect to show the profit we have shown for the past twelve months.

The meeting then terminated.

Shanghai College Notes

For almost a month the chapel services at Shanghai College and the weekly prayer meetings have directed the thoughts of the students toward the importance of spiritual matters, getting right with God and yielding personal obedience and faith to Jesus Christ. For a week past the chapel services have been conducted by Mr. James Yen of the Y.M.C.A., who gave a brief stirring address each morning on such subjects as Faith in God, Purity of Body and Mind, Patriotism and the Needs of China, Right Social Relationship, etc. Also during the week short prayer meetings were held daily by the workers; and the Young Men's personal workers group, directed by several faculty members and by Mr. L. E. MacLachlin, conducted private conferences with students who were interested and who wished to discuss their difficulties and personal problems.

Last Sunday Mr. Yen and other Christian workers had many individual and group conferences with students, and in the afternoon Mr. Yen addressed all the students, giving his final message in the evangelistic campaign. His earnest speech included a summary of the aims of men, and of the various proposed remedies; education, philosophy, science, and the several religions.

Then in a masterly fashion he outlined the teachings of Jesus and the benefits which China has obtained from Christianity. He gave a striking illustration from his own life as to how to meet the problem of an ancestor worship in one's own home.

The address closed with an appeal for decisions for the Christian life, which was responded to by 33 men deciding to put their lives under the leadership of Jesus Christ, while 14 others expressed a strong interest in the matter.

Throughout the meetings there was a complete absence of secular and sentimental methods. Shanghai College stands for the training of the whole man and woman. In addition to scholarship and athletics considerable attention is devoted to social service and religious education, the connection between following Christ and serving one's country and fellow men; also between fidelity to God and conscience and overcoming corruption in social and political life.

The situation in our Outward

Freight markets is as follows:

To United Kingdom and Con-

about the same as when we last wrote. Shippers' old contracts for cargo are about worked off and enquiries for space after end of December are almost nil.

To United States via Pacific

situation here remains unchanged

and the market, as far as ex-

CONSUL AT SINGAPORE IS GIVEN PRESENTATION

An interesting function took place at the French Consulate Singapore on November 25, when on the occasion of his departure for France, M. Danjou, the Consul was presented with a gold watch and a silver casket on behalf of the French community, reports the Straits Times.

In making the presentation M. R. de St. Ceran, in a spirited speech, said that M. Danjou would be remembered by the French of Malaya as the Consul of the great war, who had worked strenuously for the cause with their British Allies, whose sympathy and help had never failed him. His unfailing courtesy had won the regard of all communities and had rallied around him the French colony in the union which had ensured their success. M. Danjou had always been devoted to his work, doing everything in this important outpost of the British Empire to develop the interests of a country which was everything to him. The community hoped he would come back to them as Consul-General.

STEVEN'S PRAISED IN HERALD OF ASIA

The Herald of Asia pays a well-deserved tribute to the labors of Mr. J. F. Stevens, who lately passed through Japan on his way back to America. It refers to the unenviable position he occupied in trying to hold the railway work in Manchuria and Siberia together. Naturally it does not mention the source of the chief difficulties with which Mr. Stevens had to contend, but it is some satisfaction to see that it does recognize the difficulties which so enormously hampered his work.

JAPAN'S SHIPS OF OVER 20 TONS NUMBER 8,000

5,000	108	615,565
6,000	35	228,214
7,000	24	177,979
8,000	4	32,670
9,000	10	95,418
10,000 or over	6	71,896

Total 742 2,510,827
In addition, sailing vessels of 20 tons or over numbered 14,331, totaling 972,908 tons gross. Of the number, no less than 11,452 are between 20 and 100 tons, and while those between 100 and 300 tons number 2,814. Sailing ships of between 500 and 1,000 tons number 5, while only two have capacity for between 1,000 and 2,000 tons. The largest sailing ship in existence is one of 2,403 tons gross.

Smaller ships used in rivers and along the coast are measured in koku, which is ten cubic feet in ship measurement. Those of over 200 koku numbered 921, totaling 293,780 koku.

SETTLE IN COLOMBIA CONSUL TELLS JAPANESE

"Instead of attempting to enter such a country as the United States, where anti-Japanism is rampant," said Mr. Charles Venedich, Colombia's new consul in Japan, in the course of an interview printed in the Yoronan. "I suggest that the Japanese come to settle in Colombia, a country which welcomes the immigration of Japanese."

"The climate of our country is such that foreign immigrants will not find it difficult to work all the year round. The cost of living is roughly from 20 to 30 cents a day for the average worker. Among the natural resources of Colombia are coal mines and oil fields. What makes for the future prosperity of the coal and oil industries in our country is the fact that few companies are engaged in these lines. That the people of our country are essentially pro-Japanese will be seen from the appeal of a nephew of the present President in the press to the Japanese capitalists for investing their money in the development of the resources of Colombia."

"A group of representative Colombians is scheduled to visit Japan early next year, when some arrangements will be concluded between them and the Japanese business men and industrialists for opening up the natural resources of our country. As soon as the dock in the harbor of Buenaventura is completed, it is the hope of our Government to have Japanese steamship companies inaugurate a regular service between it and Japan ports."

SELF-EMANCIPATION GAINS IN YOSHIWARA

Alarmed at the steadily increasing number of self-emancipated prostitutes in Tokio, the men engaged in business in the Yoshiwara have decided to be more lenient in their treatment of the women there and to allow them one holiday a month.

Last year about 150 prostitutes left the Yoshiwara to lead a new life, while the past several years tell similar tales. The number in Tokio has decreased to 5,080, while the number for all Japan has gone down to 45,335. Both numbers were previously much greater.

Self-emancipation of these women came about in Japan largely through the efforts of the Christian Salvation Army. Shortly after the Salvation Army was established in Japan in 1895, agitation was begun to eliminate or at least lessen this vice. Supported by a section of the vernacular press, these efforts were successful, and in 1900 a law was promulgated which decreed that any prostitute might free herself by the mere process of going to the police and declaring her intentions. More than 400 took advantage of this law within a month of its passage.

Although the number of prostitutes in the Japanese Empire is waning, on the other hand there are more geisha girls today than ever, about 1,500 being recruited yearly in Tokio. At present there are 9215 geisha girls in the city.

JAPANESE BUY MATERIAL FOR SMOKE SCREEN

Great Quantities Of Sugar Of Milk Purchased By Tokio Agents At High Prices

California's output of Sugar of Milk, amounting to 30,000 pounds a month, is practically all being bought by Japanese and shipped to Japan.

Scientists during the world war developed sugar of milk by use of chemicals and turned this by-product of the country's creameries into war materials, making from it the carbon used in smoke screens which covered the movements of fleets and troops.

The Japanese began buying sugar of milk from the California creameries immediately after the armistice and continued until two months ago, when an investigation of the tremendous purchases and shipments of this product to Japan was started by the United States government. Then the purchases stopped.

The Japanese have again started buying as much of the sugar of milk put out by the creameries as they could obtain. They have been paying enormous prices for the product and under the intensive buying of the Japanese the price has jumped to 60 cents a pound.

When the government sought to learn why the Japanese bought such quantities of sugar of milk the question was answered by the Japanese that they had purchased sugar of milk to be used in Japan for old people who are sick with diabetes and for young babies.

Then when totals in figures were produced to show that they had purchased since November 11, 1918, a total of over 6,000,000 pounds at prices that crowded the American consumer out of the market, the answer came:

"It is being shipped to China."

Later when the inquiry developed that there was no epidemic of diabetes in the Orient and that there was no excess birth rate recorded on the other side of the Pacific—the Nipponese answer was repeated: "It is being shipped to China." In the last months of the World War the Allies discovered and used the milk product as a smoke screen fuel superior to any other in smothering submarine attacks. California milk producers report that the Japanese are again buying up every available pound of sugar of milk to be had in the West.
